EMPLOYERS TODAY are starving for women who are equipped with the skills needed to survive in the rapidly expanding STEAM fields (Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts, and Mathematics). St. Teresa’s Academy is passionate about educating our young women to thrive in this new reality.

Through STEAM related courses, projects, and extracurricular activities, we are creating students who take thoughtful risks, engage in experiential learning, persist in problem-solving, embrace collaboration, and work through the creative process. Meet tomorrow’s leaders, learners, innovators, and educators, right here at St. Teresa’s Academy!
SCIENCE

THE SERVICE IN SCIENCE

AP Environmental Science students have been designing, building, and testing solar ovens as part of a service project with Solar Cookers International. This nonprofit organization provides materials and training for women in developing countries to make solar cookers, giving them independence and the ability to earn an income. The cookers are a valuable tool combating the health risks associated with traditional cooking methods and the shortages of fuel supply.

These students are devising a fundraiser to contribute to Solar Cookers International and are passionate about educating their classmates about the global need for solar cookers. Through courses like AP Environmental Science, we are seeing student-directed, project-based learning at its finest and STA students are having a global impact through science.
In our future: CAMPUS MINISTRY IS AT THE HEART

Campus Ministry will find a new home in the expansion of the Goppert Center. The prominent location signifies the importance of a Catholic education at St. Teresa’s Academy and will be a place where students can come together in prayer and service to the dear neighbor.

FROM THEIR FOUNDING

in France in 1650, the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet have been faithful to the CSJ charism of creating right relationships among all people and the environment. Students today are honoring these roots by spending a day of service with After the Harvest, a hunger-relief nonprofit organization. The students gathered up the produce left behind by mechanical equipment. This gleaned fruit, which would have otherwise gone to waste, was delivered to area feeding agencies and food pantries.
St. Teresa’s students are taking full advantage of technology. Each student is issued a Surface Pro 4 tablet loaded with the latest software. Having the benefit of the same technology allows for students to easily collaborate on research, design, writing, and editing. In addition, students are exposed to cutting-edge technology in classrooms with touch screen projectors, 3D printers, and Microsoft Surface Studios.

Sophomore Gabby Mesa (above) is a member of DartNewsOnline. She notes the effect the Surface Pro has had in her education, and also how it has facilitated and enhanced peer editing and learning in general. “Peer editing is a big part of my newspaper class. When we write our articles, we share them with all of the editors, so it’s very collaborative. Overall, the technology makes things more accessible (we can get to documents quickly, and take notes straight onto certain documents without having to print). My favorite feature is the pen; I prefer to write out notes and annotate. With the pen I can still hand-write my notes while easily staying organized.”

In our future: TECH-BASED LEARNING COMMONS

The technology will spread across the Quad to the updated and expanded Goppert Center to include a Learning Commons—a research library of the future. With movable furniture, individual and small group spaces, and an on-staff librarian, this space will provide limitless opportunities to write, research, learn, and collaborate.
JOURNALISM AND NEWSPAPER STAFF students are taking full advantage of one of the new Microsoft Surface Studios. This technology and software enables girls to imagine, draw, author, and publish award-winning, professional-caliber publications.
STA freshmen science students are among 20,000 students participating in eCYBERMISSION, a nation-wide competition that challenges teams to solve real problems in their communities. After identifying and deciding on a problem, students engineer and build their solutions. A dashboard to prevent impaired driving, drones that make overhead drops to assist in freeing birds from oil spills, and a color changing cooking pot to prevent burns are just some examples of engineering solutions.

The Computer Science curriculum continues to grow and evolve at St. Teresa’s Academy. Students can now take advantage of courses that will expand their experience in engineering including Computer Programming, Game Development, and AP Computer Science.
In our future: GOPPERT TO BE SITE OF NEW ROBOTICS LAB

Robotics enthusiasts like Kiernan might never want to leave STA once they see the new robotics lab in lower Goppert! The lab will feature a makerspace and easy, drive-up access to the outside for load-in of larger robots. There will be competition space and plenty of room for designing, constructing, and operating robots. The sky is the limit for the talented young women in our robotics and engineering classes.

THE STARBOTS ROBOTICS

competition-based team and robotics classes at STA are examples of engineering at work. Junior Kiernan O’Boyle, club co-founder, is the 2017 winner of the Western Missouri and Kansas Affiliate Awards for Aspirations in Computing from the National Center for Women and Information Technology. Kiernan says that robotics has had a great influence on her career path, as she plans on majoring in computer science or mechanical engineering in college. “Without robotics, I would not have had my career choice or even my major narrowed down. I realized how much I love to build robots and program them. I’m so grateful we have a strong program here at STA!”
ARTFULLY ENGAGED

ARTS EDUCATION IS INFLUENCING the great innovators of the future from engineers to medical professionals. The Arts allow students to learn how to problem solve and approach an issue from multiple angles when there is no one set answer. The Arts force students to step into someone else’s shoes so they learn that the world is bigger than themselves, fostering empathy for others.

The extensive St. Teresa’s Academy curriculum offers over 35 courses in the Arts. From Acting to AP Art History, Ballet to Concert Choir, or Digital Illustration to Dyeing, Sewing & Stitching, there is something for everyone to learn from the Arts.

In our future: ARTISTS GET MAKERSPACE AT GOPPERT

“Art” is no longer relegated to pen and ink, pastels and oil-based paints. Our students are immersed in complex jewelry design, screen printing, sewing, laser cutting, and even 3D printing. Each of these disciplines takes specialized equipment, and that equipment requires space. The makerspace will be located in lower Goppert and will truly be a creative hub.
“Art has really helped me with my creative problem solving skills. In the process of making a piece, I sit down with an idea, do some sketches, and then work on the final idea in whatever medium I happen to be working with. I use this process no matter what I’m working on; be it math, physics, or chemistry. I feel like art has really allowed me to enhance my problem solving and creative skills.”

– Bailey Briscoe
Class of 2017
“To me, the Math Hub is an amazing success! Students love the Math Hub. It is like STA’s personal little math world. It provides students with an opportunity to further develop their math skills. It can be group-based or one-on-one. I like how The Hub gives them (freshman) a chance to come in for extra support if necessary to make sure they can move forward in their classes...especially since they come to STA from different schools. It gives all students a convenient way to talk to teachers or peer tutors easily while they work on their assignments or review notes.”

–Charlie Cornell
Class of 2017
RETHINKING THE WAY WE TEACH

STUDIES TELL US that lecture-based teaching only leads to 10% retention, while active learning environments can lead to 70% greater retention, and peer-teaching can be as high as 80% retention. It is this research that drove the construction and opening of the new Math Hub this year. The Hub, supervised by both a math teacher and student math mentors, features two Active Learning Classrooms complete with modular furniture and interactive technology creating state-of-the-art learning environments for students. It also offers separate areas for tutoring, small group work, and independent study.

St. Teresa’s geometry teachers are taking full advantage of the Math Hub classrooms by revamping the learning style to open-ended questioning and constructive group-work instead of lecturing and memorization. This new approach is working and the geometry students have shown a marked increase in final test scores.

In our future: EXPANDING BEYOND THE HUB

Students and faculty alike have experienced such resounding success in the Math Hub, and we’re already exploring how to expand that merger of collaborative math and technology beyond the Hub itself. As we embark on the Goppert expansion, we look forward to more Active Learning Classrooms in support of all STEAM initiatives.

IN THE HEART OF KANSAS CITY

St. Teresa’s is not only proud of it’s economic and racial diversity, but the far-reaching neighborhoods where our students reside as well.

The fall enrollment of 2016 was nearly 600 students living in 71 different zip codes.
The following is a list of all benefactors of St. Teresa’s Academy in chronological order by graduation year. Thank you to all who support our beloved Academy.

Some graduating classes are in need of a class representative. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact Kathleen Barry at kbarry@stteresasacademy.org or 816.501.0023.
